

STEAMER BURNS.

The Bluff City Totally Destroyed at Chester, Ill.

She Was One of the Finest and Newest on the Lower Mississippi.

One Thousand Tons of Miscellaneous Freight on Board Was Also Lost—The Passengers Escaped—The Loss Will Aggregate About $100,000.

St. Louis, Nov. 19.—The magnificent new Anchor Line steamer B. & O. City, one of the finest and newest boats on the lower Mississippi, which left here on Wednesday, bound for New Orleans with 40 passengers and 1,000 tons of miscellaneous freight on board, was burned to the water's edge at Chester, Ill., 75 miles below here, at 9 a. m., Thursday.

All the passengers and crew escaped to land without injury, but nothing on board was saved. The loss which is total, will aggregate $100,000. A number of race horses, that were being taken to New Orleans for the races there, were burned up on board the boat.

Flames were discovered shortly before 9 o'clock in the engine room and spread rapidly, soon enveloping the whole boat. The passengers and crew got to shore safely, not one of them being injured in the least. They were unable to save any baggage, however. Capt. Connors and Clerk Gates did all they could to get the passengers out of harm's way, and though there was a rush for the gang plank a panic was averted. Most of the passengers were yellow fever refugees who were returning to their homes in the south from St. Louis.

When the flames reached the powder magazine there was a tremendous explosion, which shattered the boat and caused it to sink to the bottom of the river. Numerous window panes in buildings on shore were broken and the town of Chester was badly shaken.

Amend was not playing, but Johnson, for some unknown reason, claimed he was cheating and shot him dead. Amend was an inoffensive boy and his murderer was known as a bully among the newsboys and boothblacks.

DUKE CROXON

Found Guilty of Assaulting Mrs. Gleason and Goes to the Penitentiary for Twenty Years.

NEWPORT, Ky., Nov. 19.—At 11:30 o'clock Thursday the jury in the Croxon case returned a verdict of guilty of criminally assaulting Mrs. Gleason, and fixed the penalty at 20 years in the penitentiary. That the verdict was more than acceptable to the accused and his attorneys there can be no doubt.

The state presented a very strong case against Croxon and the defense had practically no testimony to offer. For this reason the verdict was a very great surprise. Many thought that the extreme penalty should have been meted out to Croxon and Greer at least, but the jury, which was above the average in intelligence, thought differently.

After the verdict had been read Croxon heaved a sigh of relief and fairly leaped upon his attorneys. After a short consultation with Judge Hill he was led back to jail, where he broke the good news of his escape from the scaffold to his fellow prisoners.

HER STATEMENT.

Mrs. Minnie W. Walkup Tells of Her Marriage to Ketcham.

She Claims the Wedding Was Performed by a Milwaukee Clergyman;

That John B. Ketcham, and No One Else, Was the Groom—The Matter Was Kept Secret at the Time in Order to Avoid a Sensation, Owing to Former Acts.

CHICAGO, No. 19.—Mrs. Minnie Wallace Walkup, with an evident purpose of divesting her marriage to John B. Ketcham of all mystery and sweeping away once for all the stories, insinuations and theories of those who would discredit her, Thursday told of the whole transaction. She said:

"I need not speak of the incidents leading up to my consent to become John Ketcham's wife. That is an old story now. But of our trip to Milwaukee, the butler, the hackman, the police, the minister and the newspapers have all told their stories, while I alone have remained silent. I understand that the composite result is that somebody—anybody but John B. Ketcham—acted as bridegroom, and that I obtained my marriage certificate by fraud.

"Do I need to explain why we decided on a secret marriage? Simply because of the danger of a sensation. Mr. Ketcham's divorce from a former wife and my own unhappy experience would undoubtedly have been revived in connection with a public announcement of our marriage. We therefore decided to wed secretly and to go to Milwaukee for the purpose.

"Mr. Ketcham and I, accompanied by butler Joseph Kellar, who acted as Mr. Ketcham's valet, went to Milwaukee on the evening of September 23. We went to the Plankinton house, where a suite of rooms, being registered as Mr. and Mrs. Young and servant. This was done simply to insure the secrecy of our errand. Mr. Ketcham rose before I was awake next morning and called me. I protested against getting up so early, but he had not slept well and wanted to get out. When we were dressed we started out to find a minister, intending to travel in a street car so that our movements might not be known at the hotel. Mr. Ketcham wanted to take Kellar with us, but I was afraid he would gossip when we got back to Chicago and I insisted on leaving him behind. When we had gone some distance from the hotel we met a cab, which we engaged to take us to the minister's.

"Arriving at a parsonage I applied at the door and learned that the minister was away from home, but his wife had a neighboring clergyman called in to perform the ceremony. When we were married we ordered the driver to take us to the railway station. This was for the purpose of misleading the hackman as to our destination. When he had left us we walked back to our hotel, where we breakfasted and left for Chicago on the 11 o'clock train.

"Contrary to my wishes Mr. Ketcham told Kellar when we returned to the hotel that we were married."

Mrs. Ketcham went into other details of the Milwaukee trip and reiterated her willingness to answer any questions that remained a subject of doubt or mystery.

The coroner's jury will meet at Rollins, 22 Adams street, at 2 o'clock Friday and will be adjourned probably until Monday, as the chemical analysis of the stomach is not yet completed.
